1-36 as originally filed

Claims, No.:

1-8 as originally filed

Drawings, sheets:

1/18-18/18 as originally filed

2. With regard to the language, all the elements marked above were available or furnished to this Authority in the language in which the international application was filed, unless otherwise indicated under this item.

These elements were available or furnished to this Authority in the following language: , which is:

- ☐ the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of the international search (under Rule 23.1(b)).
☐ the language of publication of the international application (under Rule 48.3(b)).
☐ the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of international preliminary examination (under Rule 55.2 and/or 55.3).

3. With regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application, the international preliminary examination was carried out on the basis of the sequence listing:

- ☐ contained in the international application in written form.
☐ filed together with the international application in computer readable form.
☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority in written form.
☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority in computer readable form.
☐ The statement that the subsequently furnished written sequence listing does not go beyond the disclosure in the international application as filed has been furnished.
☐ The statement that the information recorded in computer readable form is identical to the written sequence listing has been furnished.

4. The amendments have resulted in the cancellation of:

- ☐ the description, pages:
☐ the claims, Nos.:

The following defects in the form or contents of the international application have been noted:
see separate sheet

EXAMINATION REPORT - SEPARATE SHEET

International application No. PCT/GB00/03074

The examination is being carried out on the application documents as originally filed.

The following documents (D) are referred to in this communication; the numbering will be adhered to in the rest of the procedure:

D1: EP-A-0 932 266 (Aerospatiale),
D2: WO-A-99/62274 (Siemens).

1. The present application does not meet the requirements of Article 33 PCT, because the subject-matter of claims 1-8 does not involve an inventive step in the sense of Article 33(3) PCT.
2. The closest state of the art is represented by D1.
3. D1 discloses a method of controlling a telephone system (see figure 1 and see claim 1) for communication between a fixed network (see reference I, RC, T on figure 1) and a movable network (see reference A on figure 1; see as well column 4, lines 20-27), the system having means for suspending operation of the moveable network (see claim 5), wherein when operation of the moveable network is suspended a control signal is transmitted (see claim 2).

The subject-matter of independent claim 1 is distinguished therefrom by transmitting a control signal to the fixed network for causing the fixed network to intercept calls directed to the moveable network.

D1 discloses a communication system on board an aeroplane which is in relation with a fixed terrestrial communication system. For reasons, like security, the communications on-board the aircraft have to be suspended. A central unit disables the mobile terminals on-board the aircraft in such a case (see claims 1-8 of D1).

It is known the field of communication to redirect a call from one system to another, or to redirect the calls directed to one system to another system. See for example D2: claims 1-4.

It is therefore obvious for a man skilled in the art to modify the system disclosed in

INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY
EXAMINATION REPORT - SEPARATE SHEET

International application No. PCT/GB00/03074

D1 such as to redirect the calls directed to an aircraft to another system, like for example a fixed terrestrial system, in case of unavailability of the aircraft for communications.

The subject-matter of independent claim 1 therefore lacks inventive step (Article 33(3) PCT).

4. The subject-matter of independent claims 4 and 6 (moveable and fixed network) is identical to the subject-matter of claim 1, these claims are therefore not inventive (Article 33(3) PCT).
5. The subject-matter of the dependent claims do not bring inventive subject-matter. The features disclosed in these claims are known in the field of telephony (disabling redirection of calls in case of availability of the original network, storing details of calls).
6. To meet the requirements of Rule 5.1(a)(i) PCT, the document D1 should have been identified in the description and the relevant background art disclosed therein should have been briefly discussed.
7. Reference signs in parentheses should have been inserted in the claims to increase their intelligibility, Rule 6.2(b) PCT. This applies to both the preamble and characterising portion.
8. It would have been appropriate to draft the independent claims in the two part form as required by Rule 6.3(b) PCT, whereby the features known from D1 should have been placed in the preamble.
